NEWSROOM NOTES — The statewide student vote held in Indiana before the Tuesday primary proved an amazingly accurate barometer of the actual vote.

Figures broken out by UNIVAC, which tabulated the student vote on computers in Washington, D.C., give:

	College Primary	Actual Primary
Kennedy	49.6 pct.	42 pct.
McCarthy	29.1 pct.	27 pct.

The college primary vote is given for 11,134 Democratic students only, since actual cross-over voting was relatively light, according to observers.

Gov. Roger Branigan was not listed on the college primary ballot. Since it is believed he would have pulled many more votes from Kennedy than from McCarthy, the college figures are seen as amazingly close to the actual results.

If the college poll proves an equally good barometer for Nebraska, Kennedy will carry the state 3 to 1 over McCarthy. Nebraska Democratic college students gave Kennedy 58.2 per cent and McCarthy 20.7 per cent.

The national college poll was called CHOICE 68.

PLANS OUTLINED

Begin Planting Petunias Monday

Weather permitting, the annual planting of petunias on Dixon's streets will get underway Monday afternoon when a large crew of helpers begins tilling the petunia beds. Starting at 3:30 p.m. fertilizer and soil conditioner must be applied to the beds before actual tilling can begin. The conditioner must be spread to a depth of about two inches and then roto-tilled into the soil in preparation for the actual planting, which will begin on Wednesday evening.

The Men's Garden Club President Kelly Woessner said a quite large group of assistants had been lined up to help with the soil preparation and the planting, but invited anyone interested in helping to attend a continental breakfast in John Dixon Park Sunday morning, anytime between 6:30 and 11 a.m. The purpose of the breakfast is to organize workers for the project, and Woessner emphasized only those interested in actually helping the following week should attend.

Outlines Schedule

Woessner outlined the following schedule for the Monday activities: Work on the South Side from the Eagle Food Market to Galena Avenue on Seventh Street would be under the direction of the Optimist Club. The Garden Club will handle the Galena Avenue section from Seventh Street to the Arch, with assistance from Eagle Scouts. The Lions Clubs will have the North Galena Avenue section. Volunteer help under the direction of Bud Carr will be responsible for Everett Street from Galena Avenue to the IC underpass. From the IC underpass west on Everett will be under the direction of Clay Appenheimer. Helping where needed will be 50 students from Washington School, as a project of the Student Council at that school.

Ed Salin, superintendent of Oakwood Cemetery, will furnish two tractors with trailers which will be used to distribute the soil conditioner.

Although volunteers have already been solicited to help with the tilling, Woessner invited anyone with a roto-tiller to help and report Monday to the John Dixon Park Lion's shelter. This is also true for anyone who is willing to help in other ways. A number of bags of fertilizer and about 250 bags of soil conditioner will be applied early Monday afternoon, and weeds in the beds must be pulled before operations can start.

Community Project

Woessner emphasized that the Petunia Planting has become a total community project, and that although the Garden Club supplies the fertilizer, soil conditioner, and petunias, many able hands will be needed to get the plants into the ground. Therefore, he urges interested citizens to turn out in force Monday and throughout the week to lend a hand where needed.

Radio stations WIXN and WSDR, will keep Dixonites posted on a bulletin basis while the operation is in progress on where help is needed.

Formal Talks Start Monday

PARIS (UPI)—The United States and North Vietnam agreed today on all details of ground rules for their preliminary talks, U.S. troubleshooter Cyrus Vance said.

He said they will be able to get down to the real business of negotiations when their full delegations meet Monday.

Vance made this announcement to newsmen when he emerged from a second meeting lasting two hours 18 minutes with North Vietnam's deputy chief negotiator Col. Ha Van Lau.

"We have agreed on all procedure," Vance said. "It was a friendly meeting. The meeting on Monday will be a substantive one."

Vance said no contacts between the two delegations are planned during the weekend except to submit lists to each other of the delegates who will attend Monday's full session.

Speaking to newsmen as he left the conference building, the French Foreign Ministry's International Conference Center, Vance made a point of referring to North Vietnam as "the Democratic Republic of Vietnam."

Same Statement

The North Vietnamese delegation left the building a few moments after Vance. They made the same statement about the results of today's meeting. It was an agreed statement.

The statement read by Vance said: "We have agreed on the procedure to be followed for official conversations between the governments of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and the United States of America."

He said the official talks will begin at 10:30 a.m. (4:30 a.m. EDT) Monday.

Asked if today's agreement included the agenda for the main talks, Vance said "No, the agenda was not discussed."

Asked if Monday's session would be devoted to drawing up an agenda, Vance said "No. It will be a substantive session."

He added that the agenda would have been agreed on when the delegates met Monday morning. He did not explain this.

The North Vietnamese waited inside the door of the conference building while Vance stood on the doorstep reading the agreed statement.

The groups met today in an effort to clear up technical and procedural details raised by the North Vietnamese.

These questions ranged from such minor items as the language to be used in lettering placards to the "order of business"—which could become a critical issue later.

Another unresolved item was who was to speak first Monday. Still another problem was leadership of the U.S. delegation. The United States wants Averell Harriman or Vance to be able to head the delegation according to convenience. The Vietnamese reportedly insisted there could be only one U.S. delegation chief—Harriman.

Officials Confident

U.S. officials predicted this problem would be cleared up soon.

Lau and five aides in dark suits arrived at the conference building in two black Citroen cars and four U.S. officials, headed by Vance, arrived 30 seconds later.

U.S. officials said they believed virtually all the technical matters would be settled at today's session. Both sides have agreed that sessions between "full delegations representing the two parties" will meet Monday morning even if all the technical details have not been ironed out.

The two chief negotiators, Harriman and Thuy, so far have not met here, but they are acquainted from the days of the Geneva conference on Laos in 1961-62.

Rescue Scene

This was the scene Friday as workmen labored to bring out 25 miners trapped by water in a coal mine near Hominy Falls, W. Va. Fifteen of the miners were rescued early today. Ten others were feared dead.

15 Trapped Miners Are Rescued Today

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (UPI)—Fifteen grimy but happy coal miners rode a conveyor belt to freedom early today through a partially flooded mine shaft which had been their prison for nearly five days.

Some of them were near collapse.

Shielding their eyes from television lights at the mine entrance, seven of the miners were taken by ambulances to their homes.

The others tarried at the mine site. They were swarmed over by sobbing but jubilant wives and relatives who waited through the night.

The first miner emerged from his underground prison at 5:20 a.m. He was weak and had to be helped from the belt. The 15th miner emerged 15 minutes later.

"I'm fine, I'm fine," Glen Amick told his family as he walked to the ambulance, shaking hands of well-wishers along the way.

Spirits Good

"They are all in good spirits," said Timothy Salvati, the mine superintendent who was one of the rescuers who entered the shaft and rode out with the miners on a 26-inch-wide conveyor belt normally used to carry coal.

Ten other miners trapped in the three-foot-high shaft since Monday were given up for dead. Rescue crews began a search for their bodies.

The ordeal of the 15 survivors ended approximately 113 hours after they were cut off by a flood of water which surged into the Gauley No. 8 shaft from an adjacent mine near this small West Virginia community located in Green Valley.

During the joyous reunion at the mine entrance, a knot of women huddled to the side weeping into handkerchiefs. They were relatives of the 10 men unaccounted for.

Condition Remarkable

Dr. Lee Todd, the company physician who briefly examined the miners as they emerged from the pit, said they were in remarkable shape considering their experience.

One of the rescued miners, Lonnie Bennett, told officials at the mine entrance he was going home. Rescuers wanted to drive him but he refused, saying he would "rather walk to my car and do the driving myself since I've been sitting so long."

H. E. Sunderstrom, a mine official, said rescuers entered the shaft about 3:30 a.m., "and made contact with the miners" 15 minutes later.

About 300 persons—many of them wives, children and friends of the trapped men—were assembled at the mine mouth when the rescuers entered the shaft.

They surged against a rope barricade when the men began coming out, and the wives were allowed to come closer.

The miners resembled ghosts when they emerged from the dark shaft into the bright light. They were thickly bearded, their faces hardly distinguishable under a thick layer of coal dust and dirt.

They wore the miners' traditional dark blue pants and shirts which they donned early Monday before beginning their shift in the pit. They also wore miners' caps with the lights burning.

The miners were wet up to their waists from crawling through water to reach the conveyor belt from their sanctuary on high ground 2,700 feet inside the mine.

Each was wrapped in a blanket to protect him from the cold as he rode the conveyor belt in a prone position.

Officials had thought the rescue would come Friday night when workers came within 224 feet of the miners. But the rescuers were halted by a shallow lake of water 30 inches high which did not allow enough breathing space in the low, gently sloping shaft to permit crossing.

The miners, complaining of the cold near the water's edge, then crawled back to higher ground deep inside the shaft where they had been stranded. They were sustained by hot chocolate, coffee and sandwiches through an air vent drilled earlier.

Sharp Fighting In DMZ Battle

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. forces reported today killing 442 North Vietnamese troops below the demilitarized zone in renewed sharp fighting, described by some officers as another phase of the enemy's "peace talk" offensive.

In the enemy's seven-day-old attack on Saigon, the American command reported 50 Viet Cong soldiers killed in fighting in and around the capital. Some guerrillas still were holding out on the southern fringes despite heavy allied air attacks.

In the northern war zone, U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division troops rushed in to reinforce Marine units battered in heavy fighting around Dong Ha, where 1,500 enemy soldiers have been reported killed in the last two weeks.

The army reinforcements and Marines reported killing 442 enemy soldiers in the last 24 hours in five battles ranging from 5 to 11 miles below the demilitarized zone. American casualties were put at 24 killed and 54 wounded.

If the U.S. count is correct, 18 enemy soldiers were killed for every American slain. Many of the enemy dead were claimed from American air strikes and artillery barrages.

56 Are Killed

U.S. bombers reportedly killed 56 enemy troops between Dong Ha and Gio Linh, another Marine stronghold to the north, after a company of infantrymen from the U.S. 199th Light Brigade came under enemy small arms fire and pulled back. One American was killed and two wounded.

Other fighting was reported near Hue, about 50 miles below the DMZ.

"The enemy has definitely escalated two-fold," said Col. Milton Hull of Plant City, Fla., commander of the 3rd Marine Regiment.

Marine officers said they believe the fighting around Dong Ha is part of a general escalation in the northern war zone aimed at giving the North Vietnamese a bargaining edge in the Paris talks.

Hull said North Vietnamese forces, reportedly two regiments, are trying to close the Cua Viet River, east of Dong Ha, one of the main supply channels to U.S. combat bases along the DMZ. Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the DMZ, is headquarters for the 3rd Marine Division, which is responsible for defense of South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Saigon

In Saigon, U.S. jet bombers made repeated runs for the second straight day today but "the Viet Cong are still there, dug in bunkers deep and heavy," said Lt. Col. Tony de Luca, commander of the 9th Infantry Division battalion trying to push the enemy south away from the city.

De Luca estimated remnants of an enemy battalion remained in the half-mile square area of homes and shanties abandoned by the civilian population along the city's southern limits. Enemy prisoners said they had been told to get into Saigon and fight to the death.

De Luca said his men had killed 137 troops from the enemy battalion in the last two days. More than 3,000 enemy soldiers have been reported killed in and around Saigon since the Viet Cong attacked last Sunday. Allied casualties have been reported light.

The American infantrymen still were coming under sniper fire today, sometimes heavy. The Viet Cong also kept up scattered mortar attacks, killing eight civilians and wounding at least 16. Vietnamese officials said hospitals in the city had reported 95 civilians dead from the fighting and 2,449 wounded, but it was believed civilian casualties were higher.

The number of civilian refugees was estimated at 80,000.

Today is the 2,512th anniversary of Buddha's birth, a major date in the religious calendar of predominantly Buddhist South Vietnam. Because of the fighting, the government broadcast appeals to the people to pray at home instead of gathering as usual in pagodas.

In a report on the 22-day-old allied invasion into the A Shau Valley, the U.S. Command said allied forces have taken control of the entire valley, an enemy stronghold for two years.

Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman, U.S. commander in the northern war zone, said the allies linked up Friday with U.S. paratroop units along roads connecting the 25-mile-long valley near the Laotian border with the old imperial capital of Hue, 30 miles to the east.

Cushman said enemy resistance was sporadic in some areas and nonexistent in others. He called the operation a success, if only because of the tremendous amount of supplies captured. Since the operation began April 19, U.S. forces have reported killing 602 enemy soldiers while 142 Americans were killed and 720 wounded seriously enough to be evacuated.

Plane Shot Down

An Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down by enemy ground fire Friday near Dak To in the central highlands of South Vietnam. The pilot was rescued. It was the 258th U.S. warplane announced lost in combat over South Vietnam.

Canadian Fails To Appear

CARBONDALE — A Canadian scheduled to appear in court here Friday on a theft charge and in Dixon on Monday for attempted theft, failed to show up in court Friday, according to Carbondale authorities.

Dixon Police on May 3 arrested Donald O'Connell, 40, Toronto, Ont., during an alleged attempt to bilk Mrs. Estelle McNitt, 1012 W. Seventh St., while posing as a bank examiner.

While O'Connell was being held in Lee County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond, a warrant charging him with the theft of $2,200 from an elderly Carbondale couple was filed against him and bond on the warrant was also set at $10,000.

Last week O'Connell posted $2,000 cash bond in Dixon and gained his release, but was supposed to appear in court here Friday for a preliminary hearing.

Dixon Police are now attempting to contact Toronto authorities to verify if O'Connell's Toronto address which he gave authorities here when he was arrested, is valid.

In Carbondale, O'Connell was charged on a complaint signed by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ferner, Carbondale, police here said.

Dixon Police said they are skeptical that O'Connell will show up in Magistrate Court, Dixon Monday for a preliminary hearing.

In addition to the $2,000 cash bond O'Connell posted, authorities, by court order, impounded $1,740 in American currency and $40 in Canadian money he had in his possession when he was arrested.

Spectre of 'Crooked Cross' Haunts Germany

By TOM CULLEN

MUNICH, West Germany — (NEA) — The horrors of the Hitler era are being recalled here today as moderate West Germans express genuine dismay at the rise of the National Democratic Party (NPD) which is making a bid to become the Nazis' successor of 1968.

The NPD took a big step toward that goal in the recent state elections in Baden-Wuerttemberg where the party won 9.8 per cent of the total vote. It was the NPD's most impressive display of strength to date, especially since Baden-Wuerttemberg is traditionally anti-Nazi. The neo-Nazis have now won electoral successes in all seven state elections they've contested since the party was formed in 1966 and now rank as Germany's third largest party.

"The neo-Nazis are aching to get someone killed so they can have a martyr," a young Munich business executive told me. "Every nationalist movement needs a martyr, a hero figure around whom the rabble can be rallied," he reasons.

My friend works for an American firm in Munich and his views may not be typical of those held in the Bavarian capital. But there are many who share them.

These people are more than a little worried over the rise of the NPD and the general political atmosphere all over Germany. Incidents like the assassination attempt on student radical leader Rudi Dutschke by Josef Bachmann, an admirer of Hitler, do little to calm the fears of the moderates. The shooting of Dutschke, an outspoken left-winger, is loudly being compared to the political murders in the pre-World War II era.

The NPD benefited from the attempted assassination and the student riots that followed by accusing Kurt-Georg Kiesinger's "weak government" of not having firmly put down the riots. The neo-Nazis promised that if elected they would know how to handle such situations. Few people doubt that claim.

Two trends in particular alarm my friend and others in Munich who, like him, are sincerely anti-Nazi. The first is that the NPD, which has 6,000 hard-core members in Bavaria, has taken to breaking up meetings, heckling speakers and in general creating an atmosphere of disorder that is reminiscent of the 1920s when Hitler's bully boys went around wrecking beer halls.

Secondly, the NPD has organized its own strong-arm squads, or Schutz Gemeinschaft (Protection Fellowship), allegedly to prevent its own meetings from being broken up.

"In German ears Schutz Gemeinschaft has an ominous ring," the young business executive declared. "The hated SS started out in just the same way, calling itself the 'Saalschutz,' meaning hall protection. Its members were originally bouncers who dealt with hecklers.

"Later, as the Schutz Staffel, they became Hitler's black-shirted bodyguard.

"Wherever the NPD goes you find trouble," my friend pursued. "Photographers get their cameras smashed, people get pushed down stairs. The NPD will keep up the provocation until they get themselves a martyr like Horst Wessel."

Wessel was the Nazi Brown Shirts who lived off the earnings of a prostitute until he was killed in a street brawl in February, 1930. Afterwards, the Goebbels propaganda machine made him into a folk hero, and "The Horst Wessel Song" became the Nazis' anthem.

The National Democratic Party may lack a martyr, but otherwise it appears to be sitting pretty at the moment. In one year it has almost doubled its membership from 18,300 to 33,511.

Not a little of the NPD's success is due to its leader, 46-year-old Adolf von Thadden, who has succeeded in welding a number of right-wing splinter groups into a monolithic party.

Von Thadden, whose youthful good looks once earned him the name of "Bubi" or "Baby-face," is not, himself, a Nazi. He comes from an aristocratic Prussian family which looked down upon the Nazis as nasty upstarts. But he is surrounded by men who are unrepentant in their admiration for Hitler.

Here in Bavaria, the NPD is led by 60-year-old Judge Benno Hermannsdorfer, who, as an artillery officer, was captured by the Russians and spent five years in a prison camp. Judge Hermannsdorfer (he presides over a court concerned with patents) is gaunt and careworn-looking, but he still has the stiff bearing of a military man.

"Nationalism is only normal in the life of a nation, the judge told me. "Look at France and De Gaulle. No one accuses them of being neo-Nazis."

Another prominent NPD leader in Bavaria is Capt. Wolfgang Ross, who got leave from the German army to sit as a member of the Bavarian parliament, he being one of the 15 NPD candidates elected in November 1966.

Neo-Nazi supporters in Bavaria, as elsewhere, are overwhelmingly lower middleclass, consist mostly of small businessmen, shop assistants and farmers. The typical NPD follower would be male, Protestant, aged 42, employed as an office worker and with an above average level of education.

The National Democratic Party is more anti-American than it is anti-Communist. It blames America for "a wave of sex crimes" allegedly sweeping West Germany.

As far as Nazi war crimes are concerned, the NPD accuses the Americans of erecting the gas chambers after the war in order "to blacken Germany in the eyes of the world."

The NPD is also against foreign workers. "The foreign workers are for us what the Jews were for the Nazis," Von Thadden recently told a cheering audience near Nuremberg. He was referring to the 1.3 million Italians, Spaniards, Greeks, Turks and Arabs who were lured to West Germany in the days of the "economic miracle," when Germany was short of manpower. Many of these have since married Germans and have settled in their adopted country for life, they hope.

The NPD demand which has struck the greatest chill in the hearts of anti-Nazi's is the demand that Austria, the Sudetenland, and the other so-called "lost" territories be returned to the Fatherland. Hitler, it will be recalled, made war in 1939 in support of just such demands.

Von Thadden, however, is no Hitler. For one thing, he lacks Hitler's hypnotic power as a rabble-rouser. As for the NPD, so far it has failed to attract the financial backing from industry which the Nazis enjoyed. But for the foreign observer, the parallels between the two movements are too close for comfort.

"The neo-Nazis," my Munich friend reminded me, "almost had their martyr when one Carl Hoffmann, aged 56, recently dropped dead here after he had been ejected from a meeting as a heckler.

"The neo-Nazis tried to make out that he had been beaten up, and had died as a result of his injuries, but the autopsy clearly showed that he had died of a heart attack. However, they will keep it up until they get their Horst Wessel hero, then watch out."

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I was raised in a family that blesses sneezers. This is more than just superstition, it is a kindly gesture of wishing one well.

The man I am going with is considerate in many ways but when I sneeze Claude never says anything, although I always say "God bless you" when he sneezes. A few weeks ago I mentioned this to him and he gave me a look of disgust and sighed, "Such nonsense, but I'll try to remember." He remembered exactly once and has not said it since.

Last night I sneezed four times in a row. I said, "Claude, I sneezed." He answered, "Do you need a handkerchief?"

Please tell me why he is so stubborn? What do you suggest I do about it—KERCHOO AND UNBLESSED

Dear Kerchoo: Claude is not stubborn, he was just not raised to be a sneezer. My advice is to give up. Continue to bless him when he sneezes and settles for the blessings you get from the members of your family who were raised in the tradition.

Dear Ann Landers: Where does devotion end and bad taste begin? A group of us were discussing an item which appeared in the Oneida Daily Dispatch recently and we were split right down the middle. The women thought it was lovely. The men thought it was terrible.

Here is the item which appeared under "Personals" in the classified section of the newspaper:

"My wife Betty L. K., having shared my bed and board, having given me two lovely daughters and put up with me for the past 14 years, I will continue to be responsible for her debts for at least 14 more years. — Paul A. K."

What is your opinion, Ann? Dear In: I see nothing offensive about the ad (although it's a bit ungrammatical). I'm sure Paul accomplished what he had set out to do — to surprise Betty.

One would assume, however, ad or no ad, that a couple who had been living together for 14 years were sharing bed and board, and that Paul has been paying the bills and intends to keep on paying them.

Dear Ann Landers: When I was 14 I made a big mistake with an older boy. Fortunately I did not get pregnant. I read in your column recently where you said a girl should not tell her fiancé about such things. I hope you will not think I am dumb but I would like to know if my fiancé will know about my mistake even if I don't tell him. I hope you catch on to

Bruce Bioassat Bobby Will Take Nebraska Primary

OMAHA (NEA) — The sign in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's Negro headquarters on Omaha's 24th Street reads:

"Kennedy — white but all right. The one before (JFK) opened the door."

In this city's Negro ghetto, where some smashed windows on a recent Saturday night reminded Nebraskans that a very uneasy peace prevails since the Omaha riot of 1966, the overwhelming evidence is that the message on the sign is believed.

As is indicated in so many places, Kennedy here is going to get the preponderant bulk of the Negro vote in Nebraska's May 14 presidential primary. Nobody else is really in it in the ghetto.

The fact is, Kennedy is the heavy choice to win this primary with a majority vote and make fresh impact on his succeeding primary tests in Oregon, California and South Dakota.

It is hard to find any knowledgeable political figure in Nebraska who doubts Kennedy will win here. He has been in the state more than his principal ballot rival, Sen. Eugene McCarthy, has been seen by more people, is basically far better known and almost surely will spend the most.

Kennedy, of course, also has a strong appeal to blue-collar workers. And while there are fewer of those proportionately in Nebraska as compared with Indiana, there is also less active labor pressure to pull them away from Kennedy.

McCarthy's backers here think he can do on May 14 what he has done before — surprise everybody with the size of his vote even though he is little known and has spent relatively little time in Nebraska.

The other evening he journeyed from Indiana all the way to Scottsbluff, 450 miles west of Omaha and near the Wyoming line, for a short street tour, a private session with leaders, and a bare 45 minutes of speaking and question-answering. His final-week schedule allotted only two full days for Nebraska.

Nevertheless, a feeling exists in some quarters that McCarthy's peculiar pull with affluent suburbia, which evidently sees him as a low key nonpolitician, may stand him in good stead here as elsewhere.

Once more, McCarthy is relying for manpower mainly on the fervent college youngsters who have done so well for him in earlier tests. The visitor driving past his canvassing headquarters here late on a Friday night finds the place alive with kids.

But here, as in Indiana, the Kennedy forces have been endeavoring to match the McCarthy youth effort. On a recent weekend when the McCarthy people were said to have fielded 200 youngsters for door-to-door canvassing, a Kennedy leader proudly declared: "We had 217 out that same weekend." Like all practiced professionals, the Kennedy managers adopt a good thing when they see it.

Possibly the biggest question mark here is how Kennedy's other rival, Vice President Hubert Humphrey, will make his presence felt. Writing in his name May 14 is an easy process, but the experts disagree on whether much of an effort will be made. His ally, labor, is lying fairly quiet. President Johnson's name is still on the ballot, but few think a sizable vote for him could be counted for Humphrey.

Nebraska's 30 delegate votes are not basically bound to follow the primary results. Humphrey may have a large edge there, and McCarthy could win some. Kennedy's best hope is victory for many of the uncommitted — and he is pushing them hard.

Will Honor Brinkmeier

FREEPORT — Neil Lathrop, head of the social studies department at Highland Community College, announced today that a testimonial dinner-dance will be held in the Germania Club Ballroom, here Wednesday at 7 p.m., honoring Democratic State Rep. Robert E. Brinkmeier.

Guest speaker will be State Rep. Clyde L. Choate, Democratic Minority Whip of the 75th General Assembly.

Rep. Choate is serving his 11th term in the Illinois House of Representatives and is the only member of the Illinois General Assembly to hold the nation's highest military award — the Congressional Medal of Honor.

He was cited for bravery in action on the Anzio Beachhead in Italy and twice on the battlefields of France where he declined a battlefield commission. In addition to the Medal of Honor, he is the holder of the Purple Heart, Bronze and Silver Stars, and the Presidential Citation.

Refile Petition

OREGON — Two Oregon attorneys and representatives of Standard Oil Co. have again filed an application for permission to rebuild a sidewalk and to build driveways for the proposed service station which would be located in the heart of the city where the old Sinsissippi Hotel now stands.

Although council members at the last meeting denied the request of Standard representatives to cut the curb after aroused citizens presented the council with a petition bearing hundreds of names of residents objecting to the location of the proposed service station, the application was filed a second time.

This time oil company representatives filed the petition with Clarence Lumsden, commissioner of public health, safety and welfare. At the last meeting a similar petition was presented to the council.

The council again laid over a request of Floyd Robbins, owner of the Blackhawk Tavern, who had previously asked the council to consider allowing taverns within the city to remain open until 1 a.m. on weekends. The taverns located in the city now have a midnight closing time whereas those falling under county jurisdiction are allowed to remain open until 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Although the request was held over the council agreed to conduct a survey of closing hours of other towns in Ogle County.

In other action a resolution to call a referendum was introduced by city council members Friday night to give the mayor special powers in the event of a city-wide emergency. No action was taken on the matter which was recommended by the Illinois Municipal League.

The ordinance, if passed, would give the mayor several powers including the authority to close taverns and limit the sale of gasoline for 48 hours.

Tentative Agreement Is Reached

OREGON — Teachers and board members of Oregon Community Unit School District have reached a tentative agreement on a salary schedule which gives the teachers a $6,400 base salary with three per cent increases for training and experience.

Faculty members earlier presented a letter to the board which stated the salary schedule was being accepted with reservations since the board had seen fit to refuse the request of the faculty for an intermediary committee.

Teachers said they will ask the Illinois Education Association investigating team to study the salary schedule's provisions including: Limitations on pay increases on the schedule after six years for teachers holding a bachelor's degree.

A copy of the letter was sent to all board members. The regular board meeting will be held Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Jefferson School.

LOOKING AROUND

By E. G.

Mrs. Charles Walgreen is the recipient of two recent awards . . . one, the "Tower Award," presented by the Women's Advertising Club of Chicago on the occasion of its 50th anniversary, recognized Mrs. Myrtle R. Walgreen as a "Humanitarian and Distinguished Citizen of Chicago" . . . the other plaque was presented at the 37th annual Shakespeare Birthday Program and Award Dinner, April 20th . . . it reads: "Friends of Literature Citation to Mrs. Myrtle R. Walgreen in grateful recognition of her devoted service in countless ways to Chicago's Cultural and Humanitarian programs, and as a token of our admiration and affection. Her joy in never having known a 'Dull Day' is a constant source of inspiration to all who know her."

With the "Poor People's March" on Washington now is the time to recall the words of the economist, Fredric Bastiat . . . "When the people are encouraged to turn to government to settle all their problems for them, the basis for all revolutions is thereby established. For then the people expect the government to provide them with all the material things they want. And when these things are not forthcoming, they resort to violence to get them. And why not — since the government itself has told them that these responsibilities belong to government rather than to them?" . . . and by the way — have you noticed the lack of hollow-cheeked, sunken-eyed, gaunt and underfed demonstrators and marchers . . . demonstrations — marches — riots — rumbles . . . that's the way the country crumbles.

On the sunny side of life . . . is the news that students at Harding College, Searcy, Ark., demonstrate that they are moral, law-abiding and mature students — capable of and deserving an education . . . they donate blood to the American Red Cross (not to the Viet Cong), write scores of letters to our soldiers in Vietnam . . . have made and bought over 1,300 dolls and toys for orphan children . . . in a letter from Clifton L. Ganus Jr., President of Harding College, he stated that the school believes in Christian principles, constitutional government and free enterprise . . . the school for many years has been noted for work and support in this area . . . they stress teaching their students to be good American citizens and for this endeavor have received the "Freedom Foundation Award" every year since its inception.

Fun to read papers from other places . . . am the recipient of several brought back by the Earl Stitzels who returned home last week . . . papers from Lebanon, Egypt and England . . . on the front page of the April 8th edition of the Egyptian Gazette is the following story.

"A Dutch clairvoyant has said the killer of Dr. Martin Luther King appeared to him in a vision as a man of about 40 who lived in Memphis and seemed to be either a businessman or salesman. 'Mr. Croiset who has helped the police of various countries in tracing criminals and missing children, told Reuters yesterday the assassin wore a big light-colored trilby hat, usually on the back of his head and was five feet, ten inches tall.

"He was broad-shouldered with a yellow complexion, a fleshy nose and blue eyes, and drove away after the killing to his apartment in the northeast of the city in a car about four years old with a bright yellow stripe on it."

Sweet and lovely was the Mother's Day poem appearing in a May 1943 issue of the Telegraph . . . written by Billy Clark — at that time a 4th grade student at Mount Morris . . . "Thank you for three meals a day . . . and thank you for the baskets in May . . . Thank you for my birthday cake . . . and I sure like that real good steak . . . Thank you for the things you cook . . . Thank you for reading out of my book . . . Thank you for cleaning my room . . . and for that card game named 'Zoom' . . . I hope you like to hear, that I love you, Mother Dear." . . . and a happy, beautiful and wonderful Mother's Day to you, you, and you!

City Building Plans Okayed

ROCHELLE — Over the objections of Fire Commissioner James McCaslin, Fire Chief William Lower and members of the fire department, City Council members at a special meeting Friday voted to have the proposed new fire station face toward Main Street.

Lower said although they objected to the Main Street entrance they would go along with the decision of the council because they wanted action on the building.

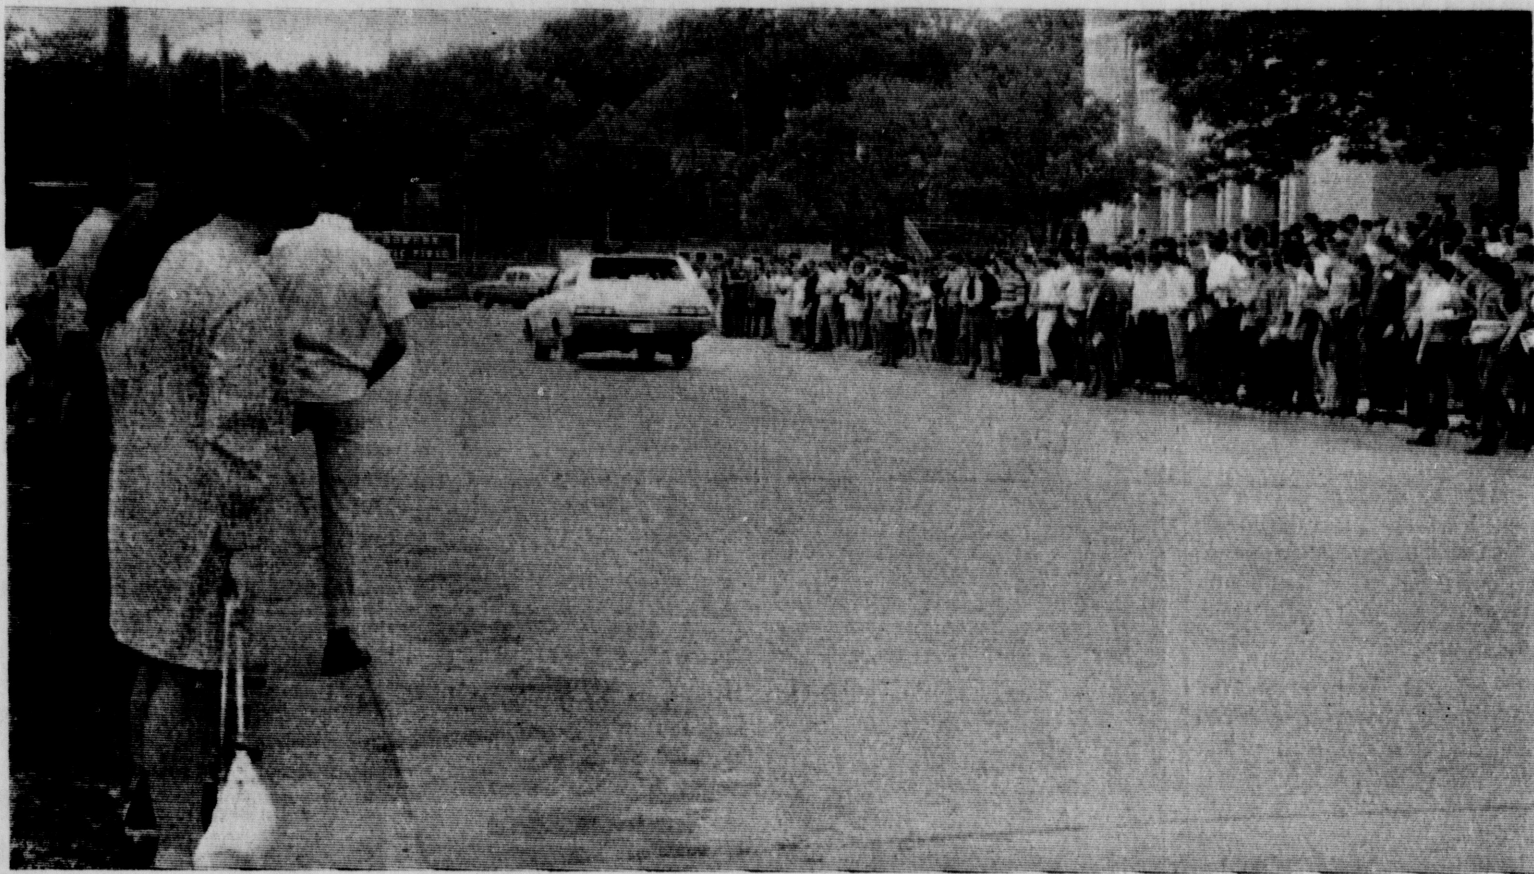

One of the arguments entered against the entrance was that southern exposure was needed for the drying of hoses and snow removal equipment during the winter months.

Auto-Skid Demonstration Conducted for DHS Students

Larry Williams, Dixon, a representative of the Country Companies Insurance, Bloomington, was on hand Friday on Page Drive in front of Dixon High School supervising an auto-skid demonstration for freshman and sophomore students. Above, the demonstration auto used is shown skidding to a stop as its front-end dips forward and the rear-end is lifted from the pavement as the car screeches to a halt. A driver's reaction time and braking distance were measured during the demonstration in which students, faculty and a Dixon policeman participated.

Deaths and Funerals

Edward F. Shope

POLO — Edward F. Shope, 76, Marco Polo Hotel, died Friday night in KSB Hospital, Dixon, following a short illness.

He was born July 14, 1891, in Polo, the son of William and Adella Stephens Shope.

Mr. Shope, an interior decorator, was preceded in death by a son and two brothers.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ray (Louise) Akridge, Dixon.

Services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Benson-McNabb Funeral Home with Rev. Len Huff, pastor of the Emmanuel United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairmount Cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mary Ann Kingdom

CRESTON—Services for Mary Ann Kingdom, 92, Creston, who died Thursday in her home, were held today at 1:30 p.m. in the Dee Funeral Home, Rochelle. Burial was in Lawndale Cemetery, Rochelle.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Chris Anderson and Mrs. Walter Dyer, both of Rochelle, and Mrs. Walter Schnoor, Esmond; two sons, Art, Creston, and Fred, Rochelle; 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Trio Held In Jail

OREGON — A Rockford man and two persons from DeKalb remain in Ogle County Jail today in lieu of $10,000 bond each after being bound over to a County grand jury Friday on charges of attacking a Rockford woman.

In custody are Rose Maki, 21, Mike Harmon, 29, both of DeKalb and Joseph Cawley, Rockford, accused of driving Mary Suknich, Rockford, to Ogle County Wednesday night, ordering her to disrobe, committing deviate sexual acts upon her, then driving her to DeKalb where they dumped her from the car.

Miss Suknich, who said she met the trio at a Rockford Holiday Inn where Cawley is employed, furnished police with a description and they were arrested by DeKalb Police and turned over to Ogle County authorities.

They were in Ogle County Magistrate Court Friday for a preliminary hearing after which they were bound over to the grand jury.

Miss Maki and Harmon are employed at the DeKalb Holiday Inn, police said.

Meeting Set

The Board of Directors meeting of the Tri-County Opportunities Council will be held May 20 in the Immaculate Conception Hall, 703 12th Ave., Fulton, at 8 p.m.

The meeting is open to the public.

Mrs. Marie Tooev

Mrs. Marie Tooev, 64, 123 Sherman Ave., died late Friday afternoon in KSB Hospital following a long illness.

She was born Aug. 11, 1903, in Ohio, the daughter of William and Emma Fahs Spohn. She was married to John Tooev during November, 1920, in Ohio.

Mrs. Tooev was preceded in death by three brothers.

Survivors include her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Richard (Gale) Brown, Oregon; Mrs. Merle (Betty) Topper and Mrs. George (Jackie) Muntean, both of Dixon; three brothers, William, Mendota; Frederick, Beloit, Wis., and John, Elgin; four sisters, Mrs. Robert Zinke, Compton; Mrs. Joseph Didier, Mendota; Mrs. Arthur Hohertz and Mrs. Fred Martin, both of LaMoille, and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 9 a.m. in the Jones Funeral Home and at 9:30 a.m. in St. Patrick's Catholic Church with Rev. William Boland, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home Sunday after 2 p.m. where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

Sentence Man

OREGON—Circuit Judge Helen M. Rutkowski Friday placed Edward Holder, 34, Monroe Center, on three years probation for theft with a stipulation he serve the first year in the State Penitentiary, Vandalia.

Holder and another man, Billy Beckman, were charged last April with the theft of a trans-former, some wiring and a battery from an auto.

Holder pleaded guilty to the charge, while Beckman remains in Ogle County Jail in lieu of bond pending disposition of his case.

Correction

The Telegraph Friday inadvertently listed as Kewanee, the address of Gerda Ida Petry, to whom a marriage license was issued.

Miss Petry's correct address is Fulda, Germany. The license was issued to Miss Petry and Jackie Leneer, Rt. 3.

DHS Students View Auto Demonstration

The importance of defensive driving was emphasized to Dixon High School freshmen and sophomore students Friday during an auto-skid demonstration sponsored by the Country Companies Insurance, Bloomington.

The demonstration, under the supervision of Larry Williams, Dixon, a company representative, was done by indicating the distance necessary to stop an automobile at various speeds.

The educational program emphasized the attitude and knowledge as a means of preventing auto accidents and saving lives and property.

Members of the student body participating in the demonstration were Judy Baker and Mary Hey, as well as Miss Rose Mary Smith, physical education teacher; Richard Raber, driver education instructor and social studies teacher, and Dixon Patrolman William Webb. Officer William Walls also was on hand to assist.

The demonstration automobile was driven at varying speeds of from 20 to 40 miles per hour. An important feature of the demonstration showed students that when a car's speed is doubled from 20 to 40 miles an hour the braking distance is four times greater.

Paint cartridges are used in the special detonator to signal the driver to stop. It is possible to show that even 25 miles an hour may be too fast in a 25-mile-per-hour zone in a residential area.

DHS students used reaction and braking charts in recording the driver's reaction time and braking distance. They were able to compare the scores of each participant with a set of averages. At the conclusion of the demonstration, each student was given a booklet "Horsepower and Horse Sense."

Happy Birthday

To Mike Sondgeroth, Monday.

Fire Calls

A "home" was destroyed by fire Friday and a lesson was learned by the "contractor" never to build a home on someone else's property.

The "home" belonged to a bird and was in fact a nest which it had built in the manifold of a tractor owned by Carl Huffman, rural Dixon.

Huffman had to call Dixon rural firemen Friday after he started the tractor and the manifold heated up igniting the twigs out of which the nest was made.

The incident occurred near Galena and Fourth Avenues, firemen said. They reported the nest was totally destroyed, but hardly any damage was done to the tractor. The bird was not at home when the fire occurred.

Rural firemen also battled a grass fire along the Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks near the Charles R. Walgreen airfield. Damage was confined to grass along the tracks and some railroad ties.

In still another grass fire Friday, rural firemen, assisted by firemen from Grand Detour and Rock Falls, extinguished a fire along the Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks west of Dixon, off the Rock Island blacktop.

Arrest Man

Eladio Reyes, 52, 844 Sproul St., Friday night was arrested for disorderly conduct on a complaint signed by his wife, Ramona.

Plum Hollow Association Opens Season

Mrs. Robert Whitehead was elected sports chairman of the Plum Hollow Women's Golf Association when the organization opened the season with a Monday night dinner-meeting at the Brown Shingle.

Also elected were Mrs. William Steimle, secretary; Mrs. Charles Brierton, treasurer; Miss Nova Kellar, handicap chairman, and Mrs. Rae Arnold, tournament chairman.

Golf activities will begin Tuesday at Plum Hollow Club with tee-off time set for 1 to 1:30 p.m. The group will meet regularly this season on Tuesdays and women who are Plum Hollow members are invited to join the association.

New Officers Are Elected By Study Club

Wednesday night's dinner at Eddie's Supper Club for Mothers' Study Club members preceded a meeting with Mrs. Fred Padgett when Mrs. James Kirkpatrick was elected new president.

Also elected were Mrs. Robert Troester, vice president; Mrs. Delbert Long, secretary, and Mrs. Luther Mielke, treasurer. Mrs. John Cornelius, new program committee chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Llewellyn, Mrs. Allen Larsen and Mrs. Joy Fahs, and appointed as members of the entertainment committee were Mrs. Bert Schaefer, Mrs. Donald Crader, Mrs. Ivan Swegle and Mrs. Clyde Taylor.

Devotions entitled, "Why God Made Mothers" were given by Mrs. William Ferger Sr., newly elected devotions chairman, and tentative plans were made for a club breakfast in the White Pines State Park Lodge.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Virgil Wasson, Mrs. Troester and Mrs. Virgil Childers were in charge of arrangements for the dinner, and table decorations included floral centerpieces made by Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Dale Russman and Mrs. Delbert Long. Favors were individual corsages made by Mrs. Padgett, and Mrs. Russman also served as co-hostess for the meeting.

Baby Shower

Mrs. James Thompson entertained guests at a Tuesday night surprise baby shower honoring Mrs. Dale Laws, Amboy.

Dessert was served by the hostess, and party guests included Mrs. George Kaleel, Mrs. Jerome Hochstatter, Mrs. Donald Keho, Mrs. John Ottenheim and Mrs. Charles Dickinson, Amboy, and Mrs. William Oaks. A gift was also sent to the party by Mrs. James Braida, Amboy.

In bridge games planned for entertainment, Mrs. Ottenheim won the high score award; a guest prize was presented to Mrs. Oaks, and the "bingo" award went to Mrs. Keho.

Miss Diana Uphoff Weds Robert McFalls

FRANKLIN GROVE — White satin fashioned the gown worn by Miss Diana Uphoff when she became the bride of Robert C. McFalls in a candlelight ceremony held April 27 in the Methodist Church.

The William Uphoffs, Franklin Grove, are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFalls, Rock Falls.

Rev. Wayne Wachholz pastor of the Amboy Methodist Church, performed the double-ring wedding, and "I Never Knew" and "Wedding Prayer" were vocal selections by Mrs. Ralph Gebhard, who was accompanied by Mrs. Chris Ulrich, organist.

Clusters of lilies of the valley centered white satin bows attached to the sanctuary pews, and the church altar held bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The molded bodice of the bride's gown, featuring tapered sleeves and a scalloped neckline edged with pearl-embroidered Swiss lace, topped a floor-length bouffant skirt accented by a lace-trimmed chapel train and a scalloped hemline bordered with re-embroidered lace. Three tiers of illusion formed her bridal veil which fell from a crown of pearlized flowers, and yellow roses, lilies of the valley and ivy strands were combined in the bouquet she carried atop her maternal grandmother's Bible. She also carried a handmade lace handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother.

Mr. Uphoff gave his daughter in marriage, and Miss Kriss Uphoff, who served as her sister's maid of honor, was attired in a lavender gown accented by a hemline border of Swiss embroidery. Identically styled gowns in pastel yellow and green were worn by the attendants, Mrs. Douglas Schrader, Rock Falls, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss LaVonne Taubenheim, and they carried miniature baskets filled with lavender, yellow and white daisy chrysanthemums.

Acting as ceremonial acolytes were the bride's sisters, Lori and Jody Uphoff, who wore green A-line frocks accented by corsages of green chrysanthemums.

Pink accessories and a pink rose corsage complemented the pink linen ensemble worn by Mrs. Uphoff, and the bridegroom's mother chose a dress of yellow lace, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

David Schumaker, Chicago, acted as the bridegroom's best man; serving as groomsmen were Douglas Schrader, Rock Falls, and Gregory Leseman, Sterling, and ushers were Larry Helgason, Rock Falls; Terry McCombs, Sterling, and Randy Ulrich.

A six-tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table arranged for a reception held in the church parlors following the 7 p.m. service when Miss Suzanne Cook registered guests from Franklin Grove, Dixon, Rock Falls, Malta, Amboy, Sycamore, DeKalb, Elgin, Tulon, Sterling, Rockford, Kirkland, Princeton, Garden Prairie, Chicago, Macomb and from Westmont, Wis.

The bridegroom's cousin, Miss Sally McFalls, Rock Falls, and Mrs. Donald Adams, aunt of the bride, served the cake and punch and coffee were poured by Mrs. Charles Morrison and Miss Sharon Eich, and in charge of the gift table were Miss Linda Uphoff and Miss Peggy Grimm. Additional assistants were Mrs. Russell Hopkins, Mrs. Virgil Page, Mrs. Frances Frederick and Mrs. Horace Boone.

The newlyweds were also honored at a rehearsal dinner hosted by the bridegroom's parents

Sauk Valley College President and Mrs. Edward J. Sabol will team up as official delegates to the inauguration of Dr. Samuel E. Braden as tenth president of Illinois State University, although each will be representing different institutions. Dr. Sabol will be attending the ceremonies, which are scheduled to be held today at Normal, as the representative from Sauk Valley College while Mrs. Sabol (Virginia Davis) will serve as the official delegate from her alma mater, the State University of New York, Albany, where she was a member of the class of '41.

Approximately 335 delegates representing institutions of higher learning across the country are expected to attend the inauguration ceremonies.

News Briefs

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet officials said today Kuibyshev, an ancient Volga River town that once was named Samara, has become the ninth Soviet city to pass the one million mark in population.

MANILA (UPI)—Three passengers of an inter-island ship were thrown overboard by pirates Tuesday in a remote portion of the southern Philippines and were eaten by sharks, the Philippine News Service said today.

Sterling Wins 1968 District Golf Title

Top Medalists

Dukes Place Second; Krahenbuhl Shoots 76

The Dixon Duke golfing team had to settle for second place in the state District held Friday at the Dixon Country Club. Sterling's Warriors copped the first place honors by defeating the Dukes and 14 other schools from the surrounding area.

The Dukes and Warriors ran one-two throughout the meet with Sterling getting the final edge by six strokes 318-324.

The biggest advantage the Sterling team picked up, was on the back nine of the Dixon course when Chuck Walrath, Sterling's fourth man shot an outstanding 33 to go with an opening nine of 45 for a 78 and tie for second low score of the day.

Kim Krahenbuhl was the lone member of the DHS squad who will participate in the State meet this coming Friday and Saturday in Champaign, as he claimed the second place medal honors with a 76 and a sudden death playoff with Al Warner of Sterling.

Other Dixon players shooting in the District tournament were Dave Heckman, who fired a 44-42 for an 86, Jerry Hey 43-43, for 86.

Don Detweiler had a few problems on the front nine while shooting a 43, but came back on the back side of the course to fire a 38 for an 18 hole score of 81, good for one of the lower scores shot in the tourney.

Joe Meyer also had his problem on that front nine as he also shot a 43, he too rebounded in the second nine for a 38 and an 81 for the 18 holes of competitive golf.

John Schryver shot an 89 for his 18 holes of golf in the District tournament.

Dixon's Kim Krahenbuhl was far and away the most impressive golfer on the DHS squad yesterday, and possibly the course, as his consistency allowed him to get around the tough front nine of the Dixon course in 39 and then continue to improve on the back side of the course, shooting a 37 for a total of 76.

This 76 was good enough to tie him with Warner of Sterling for a sudden death playoff for the medalist honors for the tourney.

Both Krahenbuhl and Warner had good drives, but Kim's ball landed to the left of the green near some pine trees. The DHS golfer got the ball past the trees in front of him but ended up short of the green, while a great two iron shot by Warner left him forty feet past the cup, pin high.

Krahenbuhl's third shot wasn't quite enough, as he ended up short of the green and was forced to chip on again. Warner then putted out to claim the top medalist honors with Krahenbuhl second.

John Phalen of Polo proved to be the hottest golfer for the Marcos, who finished fourth with a total of 338, as he scored a 78 during his 18 holes of play, and was awarded the fourth play individual medalist honors after a sudden death playoff against Walrath of Sterling and Frkol of LaSalle-Peru. Frkol was awarded third place.

Sterling Newman, coached by R. Dennis Lewis ended up in fifth place with a 339 total. Dave Schrader paced the Newmanites with a low of 83, while Nick Fiorini and Gary Cook scored 85 for 18 holes.

Fiorini started badly, but responded to the challenge by shooting a 37 on the last nine to get his 85.

Below are listed the team places and the top individual medalists in the 1968 District

Golf Tournament held at the Dixon Country Club Friday.

Mike Frkol of LaSalle approaches the first green in the sudden death playoff for third place in the District golf meet yesterday. Frkol defeated Chuck Walrath of Sterling and John Phalen of Polo to claim the third place medal on this first hole.

Detroit Seeks First Pennant in 22 Years

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers have gone 22 years without winning a pennant and that span has covered most of the career of Al Kaline, who joined the team in 1953 as a bonus baby.

Kaline, who'd like to cap his career by playing on a pennant winner, hit the 306th homer of his career Friday night to tie Hank Greenberg for the club leadership while powering the Tigers to a 12-1 triumph over the Washington Senators that moved the club back into first place by one-half game over Baltimore.

It was the first time this season that Kaline has looked like he was planning to lead the Tigers to anything, much less a pennant. Despite the club's fine start, Kaline has been mired in a slump with a .228 with just two RBIs and one homerun. Those are startling figures for the man who's .305 lifetime average is the highest of any veteran in the league who's played 1,000 or more games.

McLain Wins Fifth

The Kaline splurge made it easy for Denny McLain who boost his record to 5-0 this season with his fifth straight complete game.

In the other American League games, New York edged Boston 2-1, Cleveland blasted Baltimore 12-0, Chicago nipped Oakland 2-1, and California beat Minnesota 3-0 but the Angels lost the nightcap 6-5.

In the National League, New York topped Chicago 5-1, Atlanta nipped Los Angeles 2-1, Pittsburgh topped Philadelphia 2-1, San Francisco beat Cincinnati 6-4 and the Houston-St. Louis game was rained out.

In the first inning Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup walked and Kaline doubled in two runs off Barry Moore to start a four-run rally. Kaline singled in a run during the four-run second and slammed a three-run homer in the fourth. McLain scattered seven hits while breezing to the victory.

Sonny Siebert pitched a three-hitter and Vic Davalillo and Joe Azcue each hit three-run homers as the Indians whipped Baltimore. Siebert's shutout was the eighth by the Indian staff this season. Davalillo knocked in four runs and Azcue and Tommy Harper each batted in three as starter Jim Hardin took the loss.

Yanks Top Boston

Roy White tripled leading off the eighth and scored the winning run on Andy Kosco's long sacrifice fly as the Yanks edged Boston. Rookie Stan Bahnsen, with relief help from Joe Verbanic in the ninth, took the victory for the Yanks.

Duane Josephson's ninth inning single scored Luis Aparicio from second as the White Sox edged Oakland. Aparicio singled, stole second and scored on Josephson's loop to give the Sox their sixth victory in the last eight games. Bob Locker, in relief of Tommy John, got the victory while Chuck Dobson went all the way and took the loss.

George Brunet tossed a two-hit shutout and Rick Reichardt

Sports Parade

NEW YORK (UPI)—General-ly when the boss wants to talk to you it means trouble.

But this was different. Much different.

Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox and one of the few true sportsmen still left in baseball, isn't the ordinary boss. Carl Yastrzemski isn't the ordinary hired hand, either.

Yawkey is at that stage where he catches most of his baseball on his transistor at his Georgetown, X.C., retreat or on his television screen when they happen to be showing the Red Sox on Saturday's Game of the Week. He doesn't spend that much time in Boston so he doesn't make it a practice to visit the Red Sox clubhouse.

Yawkey saw his first game of the season, "live," as he put it, Friday night. He saw the Yankees beat the Red Sox, 2-1, at Yankee Stadium.

Breaking custom, he visited the Red Sox clubhouse before the game. He made it a special point to talk to one player. Carl Yastrzemski.

There's some 40 years difference between them but they talked to each other the way guys do in a steam room. Man to Man and on the same level.

Tom Yawkey, the boss, told Carl Yastrzemski, his employee, that he was trying too hard.

Don't press, Carl . . . forget that 241 batting average . . . don't try to do it all by yourself . . . we're not expecting you to perform any miracles.

By nature, Yastrzemski is an intense person. He's also high strung but you could see his features soften the longer Yawkey talked to him.

"He's a wonderful man," said the American League's Triple Crown champ of 1967 after the Boston owner had left. "He was telling me to relax and we talked about the ball club in general."

Sombody said it looked as if he was overwinging lately and trying to knock all the wind out of the ball park. Was that the trouble?

"I think it's been a couple of things," said Yastrzemski. "overswinging is one of them. I'm not waiting on the ball like I should, either. The weather also has had a little bit to do with it. I'm not really loose yet."

Was he pressing?

"A little," he said. "I'd be lying if I said no."

Were they pitching him much tougher than a year ago? "Definitely."

"Subconsciously," says Bobby Doerr, the Red Sox batting coach, "Carl has been trying to carry on where he left off last year. He's trying to hit home runs and as a result he has chased some bad balls. But the No. 1 thing is he's trying too hard. Trying to carry the whole load by himself. We all know he has a great ability and he's going to hit but he's trying to force it."

Some time after he had his talk with Yaz, Yawkey went up to the mezzanine and sat there inconspicuously along with Haywood Sullivan, the club's vice president in charge of player personnel.

He watched the Yankees pull a shift on Yastrzemski by moving their shortstop over to the other side of second base and saw Yaz foil the strategem with two rifle-shot singles as well as a walk.

Tom Yawkey didn't see the Red Sox win, but he did see Carl Yastrzemski beginning to move.

That could be much more important.

Cavalaris Reconstructs Derby Week Incidents

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Trainer Lou Cavalaris said today he is interested in reconstructing the events of Kentucky Derby week to help prove he didn't intentionally drug his horse, Derby winner Dancer's Image.

If owner Pete Fuller approved, Cavalaris said, "I'd definitely be interested in returning to Louisville to make a test like that."

Fuller was unavailable for comment.

Cavalaris was asked if he would like to return Dancer's Image to barn 24, stall 7, administer two phenylbutazone tablets on a Sunday morning and then submit to a urine test the following Saturday.

In the meantime, Dancer's Image would be worked just as he was the week before the Derby last Saturday, he would stand in the same tub of ice water two hours a day and the same sun lamp would shine on his back.

"That would be just what we need," Cavalaris said from his Baltimore hotel room by telephone. "That would be proof positive."

Dancer's Image was disqualified as the 1968 Derby winner after stewards at Churchill Downs said a chemist's test showed phenylbutazone in a urine sample taken after the race. Forward Pass was declared the winner of the race.

A hearing will be held here Monday to determine how the drug got into the horse's system and whether or not any punishment should be levied against anyone in connection with the event.

Cavalaris said he and Dr. Alex Harthill, a Louisville veterinarian, gave Dancer's Image two tablets of the drug, commonly called Butazolidin, about 10:30 a.m. April 28.

While most authorities believe the drug should disappear from a horse's system in far less than six days, some suggest the ice packs could make a difference.

Cavalaris was in Baltimore overseeing training of Dancer's Image for the May 18 Preakness, but he said Fuller hadn't changed his mind about keeping the colt out of that race if Cavalaris couldn't saddle him.

Cavalaris may train horses, but not saddle any for racing or allow any he might own to enter any race until the Derby controversy is settled.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Golf is a game of nerves and equilibrium. I can best illustrate the point by what happened to me in Tucson this year. I'd played pretty well the first two days, better than I'd scored. I was at 140, four strokes behind the leader. In the third round I shot a 65 and pulled within one of the lead. Everything was falling into place. No mistakes, no mental fluffs.

The final day, I shot the first nine in 33 and was tied for the lead. I bogeyed 10, which didn't upset me too much. It was a good hole. Then I birdied 11 and 12 and I've got a stroke lead on Harold Henning. We don't know what George Knudson's doing. He's way in front of us.

On 13 and 14, which are short par fours, I drove within 50 yards of the green and could not make a birdie, despite simple sand wedge approaches. On 15, a par five, I hit a drive and two-iron to the green on my second shot and still could not make a birdie. Under those tournament conditions, I ordinarily expect to get one or two birdies because I'm that keyed up. So I'm feeling down in the dumps. I could have iced it up.

On 16, I hit a drive and seven-iron. I got up on the green and saw I've got a cute, 12-foot putt for a bird. I also found a scoreboard and found Knudson had finished 15 under par, which was my score.

Now I'm kind of hot, remembering those birdies I didn't get. I should have blasted him off the course. I said to myself I'll get the lead back on this putt. I hit it right into the heart of the hole and it flipped out on me.

Oh yes, I didn't win the tournament. I'll tell you how in the next chapter.
